

SAY!

(By CHARLES J. ARFOLD)

It seems the Kiwanians and Rotarians are all excited about the Charity basketball game to be played in the High School gymnasium, Monday night. The Kiwanians are now claiming that the Rotarians are attempting to take advantage by purchasing Otis Gardner with a step ladder to be used on the playing floor. The Kiwanians have searched the rule books but can find no rule which prohibits the use of a step ladder by any player. Unable to bar the use of the ladder through the "pulling" of the rule book they have resorted to a campaign of propaganda in which the vane claiming that the Rotarians are unfair and unsportsmanlike in seeking a stepladder advantage for Gardner.

On the other hand the Rotarians are standing pat and say that Gardner will be in the lineup and will have his step ladder with him regardless of the objections of the Kiwanians, who, the Rotarians claim are resorting to the "baby" act in an attempt to cripple the efficiency of the Rotary team.

Another squabble has resulted over the selection of officials. The Rotarians have submitted the name of Andrew Hanna, one of the city's most ardent basketball enthusiasts and an expert on basketball rule interpretation. However, the Kiwanians claim that as Hanna is a Rotarian, he would be prejudiced against the Kiwanians, no matter how good they might be, and are refusing to endorse Mr. Hanna. As a compromise they have proposed that they be permitted to supply the official in the person of a "masked marvel", in whom they have great confidence. An investigation by the Rotarians developed the fact that the Kiwanians were trying to run in Milt Brown as the "masked marvel", and anyone who knows Milt knows that with him as the official the Rotarians might as well be at home in bed as far as attempting to secure justice in a basketball game with the Kiwanians, with Brown as the official.

Representatives of the two organizations are to meet this evening to attempt to agree on officials, but there seems to be little chance that an agreement will be reached.

Anxious to get the matter settled I am suggesting that they play the game without any officials, but requiring every player to call his shot.

Tentative line-ups for the two outfits as submitted today are:

ROTARIANS:

Jumping center and back guard—Otis Gardner.
Forward—John Cannon.
Forward—Charles Barnaby.
Running guard—John Cherry.
Guard—Jacob Eitel.
Cheer Leader—Ora Moffett.

KIWIANS:

Center—Elmer Crawley.
Forward—Milt Brown.
Forward—Roy Abrams.
Guard—W. L. Penman.
Guard—R. P. Mullins.
Cheer Leader—A. Fleenor.

Suspenders to hold up the basketball trunks of the players have been ordered and are expected to be here in plenty of time for the game.

Betting odds on the game as now posted on all Sunday School blackboards are 8 to 5 in favor of the Rotarians in case the track is fast. But should rains cause the going to become sloppy the odds will switch to about 10 to 1 on the Kiwanians.

A special section has been reserved for undertakers, physicians and nurses, who will be on hand ready to administer last aid.

The Rotarians will have as their slogan: "Serve yourself First," while the banners of the Kiwanians will flaunt "We Spilled", to the thundering multitudes.

Tickets are now on sale at all of the leading Chile Parlors and chewing gum vending machines. The admission price is $1 a head if you want to pay that much. Otherwise you can get in for four bits, which in our own language, is a fifty cent piece or two quarters.

KIN HUBBARD, HUMORIST, IS DEAD

Ora Moffett, coach of the Rotary team, in prognosticating his forecast of the game today said: "We'll win or die in the attempt."

O. W. Hollowell, who is directing the destinies of the Kiwanians, after being informed of Moffett's outburst, broadcast: "Let 'em die."

Members of the Rotary or Kiwanis club will not be admitted unless accompanied by their wives or other members of their families.

All in all it looks as though the "Peace on Earth, Good Will Toward Men", season had closed in local Kiwanis and Rotary ranks.

GANG FOE TO SEEK CHICAGO
MAYORSHIP

MUNICIPAL JUDGE ANNOUNCES HIMSELF AS CANDIDATE FOR REPUBLICAN NOMINATION—OPPOSES "BIG BILL" THOMPSON

CHICAGO, Dec. 25.—(AP)—Municipal Judge John H. Lyle, nemesis to gangsters, tonight announced himself a candidate for the Republican nomination for mayor in opposition to William (Big Bill) Thompson.

While the crusading jurist declined to state what backing his campaign would have, it was generally conceded that he would make a bid for support by the factions opposed to Thompson.

Thompson has broken openly with Bernard W. Snow, county committee chairman, and the county leaders who supported Ruth Hanna McCormick in the senatorial contest.

Judge Lyle, in a formal statement, said he was running because he considered the mayoralty "the one spot in Chicago where all the lines that touch crime and racketeering converge."

He denounced the "ruthless, arrogant, unchecked reign of terror carried on by criminal gangsters and racketeers."

"They have hurt our business at home and abroad and they have terrorized our citizens, our visitors and prospective visitors," he said.

"Through political influence, and money, they have bought immunity from prosecution."

"It is ridiculous to assume that all the officers of the law in Cook county can not suppress and almost totally annihilate the little bands of sulking cowardly assassins, such as are headed by Capone, Bugs Moran and Drugan and McErlane."

CAR HITS BRIDGE; IS BADLY DAMAGED THURSDAY

Occupants of an old car owned and driven by Russell Due, colored of south Greencastle, escaped injury when the car was wrecked when it skidded around the corner at the corner of Walnut and Indiana streets. Due was driving north on Indiana street and attempted to turn east onto Walnut street, when the left rear wheel dropped from the car. Occupants of the car were uninjured, and left the car immediately after the crash. The crash occurred Thursday night.

HEED GOVERNMENT CALL TO ORGANIZE

Reports of the drive for 1931 members of the Indiana Farm Bureau reveal that many farmers are joining for the first time according to M. C. Townsend, state director of organization. "Government recognition of farm organization activities and cooperative endeavor and the success attained in Indiana through them during the past few years are reasons for the newcomers to have organized ranks," he said.

The campaign for new members started in the northern part of the state in November and to date five of the ten farm bureau districts have completed their drives. A special four day period is being given over to drive in each of all the counties of a district and, in most instances, the results show 80 to 140 per cent membership lists as compared with the 1930 rosters and in a few instances it has reached 200 per cent.

BRITISH GUNS ARE POINTED AT BURMESE REBELS

UPRISING OF NATIVES RESULTS IN MURDER OF BRITISH GOVERNMENT OFFICIAL—FOUR MILITARY POLICE DEAD

RANGOON, Burma, December 26.—British machine gun troops were dispatched this afternoon to the Tharawaddy district where an uprising of natives has resulted in the murder of British government forest engineer, H. V. W. Fields Clark. Four military police also are dead and several wounded and about twenty rebel natives have been killed. Authorities regard the uprising as serious.

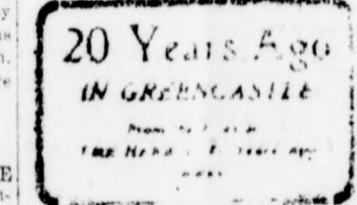

The trouble started last week between residents of two villages. Advice from the upper Burma region say natives of one village attacked the other, plundering and raiding the official headquarters, where soldiers clashed with them. The raiders later returned to their own village. Police and soldiers were sent to the district.

Advices say Clark was killed in a bungalow at the village of Weywa. He had been on a holiday to his home in England and had returned to Burma only a few days ago. He made an inspection tour of his district immediately after his return.

The rebel natives attacked his bungalow when he returned from the inspection tour. Police then attacked the rebels, who carried away their dead. Police say the rebels are hiding in a wild region, defying capture.

CUBS INVADE LEBANON FOR RETURN GAME

BASKETBALLERS CLASH WITH BOONE COUNTY FIVE TONIGHT—CENTRAL OF FORT WAYNE TO PLAY HERE SATURDAY—HAVE FAST TEAM

Coach W. E. Bausman's Tiger Cub net squad has two hard games on its card for this week end. This evening the purple and gray will journey to Lebanon for a return game with the Lebanon high school five, and Saturday night they will meet Central of Fort Wayne on the Greencastle floor.

Greencastle fans will have an opportunity to see one of the best teams in the north part of the Hoosier state in action when Fort Wayne invades the Greencastle Saturday. The northerners have three of the aggregation that made the trip to the Rutledge field house last year on the team this year. Three of the first five are colored, and the team is said to have the fastest breaking offense in the state. The team is coached by Mendonhall, former DePauw university star.

In the game at Lebanon tonight Bausman will start his five regulars. They are H. Stone, forward; T. Stone, forward; McAnally, center; Dawson, guard and Hurst, guard. Others who will make the trip are Bolander and Gross, forwards; Webb and Godfrey, guards and Hughes, center.

While the Purple and Gray chalked up an easy early season victory over the Boone county boys the game is expected to be a hard fought one as the Lebanon mentor has revamped his lineup, and has defeated a number of good teams lately.

Heart Attack is Fatal—Had Been Warned by Physicians—Family Was Enroute To Florida When Noted Writer Died

INDIANAPOLIS, Dec. 26.—Frank McKinney (Kin) Hubbard, age sixty-two, creator of the home-spun philosopher, "Abe Martin," whose daily caricaturing and witticisms have been a feature of The Indianapolis News for twenty-six years, died following an attack of heart disease at his home 5437 North Meridian street early Friday.

Mr. Hubbard was known to the millions of persons who daily followed the sayings of "Abe Martin" in The News and more than 300 other newspapers of the nation who read his occasional dissertations on events of current interest in magazines and other publications.

To many critics of American literature he was the peer of American humorists and had earned a niche in the hall of fame apart for humorists and philosophers of the country. Although the philosophy of "Abe Martin" has been compared with that of Josh Billings, Artemus Ward and other famous humorists of American literature, Mr. Hubbard from first to last, was a newspaper man and was reared in a family of newspaper editors and publishers.

Mr. Hubbard had enjoyed a quiet Christmas day with the members of his family at the North Meridian street home, and had appeared to have been well. At about 4:30 a. m. Friday he arose, complaining of a pain in the upper part of his chest. Mrs. Hubbard, his son Tom and daughter, Virginia, rushed to see what assistance could be given. He sat down for a moment and then fell dead from the heart attack.

Mr. Hubbard had been warned about two years ago members of the family said that his heart was not strong, but he had never suffered any attacks or illness from the cause. He had, however, given up some of his strenuous habits of walking and playing golf.

Members of the family surviving in addition to the widow, Mrs. Josephine Jackson Hubbard, and the two children, are a brother Horace K. Hubbard and a sister, Miss Ada Hubbard, publishers and editors of the Daily Examiner, Bellefontaine, O. The latter two were on their way to Florida and telegrams telling of the death of their brother were sent to Atlanta, Ga., in the expectation of intercepting them.

Kin Hubbard was born in 1868 at Bellefontaine, O., the son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Hubbard. His father published the Examiner, a weekly newspaper, which has been owned by the Hubbard family since 1830. The philosopher was reared in Bellefontaine and later entering his father's printshop where he learned the trade of typesetting. There he also gained his first experience in newspaper work.

Screen Star Gives Recipe for Chocolate Candy Ice Box Cake

By FAY WRAY

THE trouble with so many desserts is that they are heavenly to eat but fiendishly complicated to make. I have discovered an easy way to make a number of them by using ready-made candy in place of several ingredients called for. It saves such a lot of time and trouble, and the results are delightful. Try my Chocolate Ice Box Cake and see if I'm not right.

Chocolate Ice Box Cake
1/4 lb. bar of 4 eggs
milk chocolate 2 doz. ladyfingers

2 tbsp sugar 1 cup of whipping cream
1/4 cup water

Melt the chocolate bar in the water over a double boiler. When smooth, add the sugar and continue to cook the mixture over a slow fire until blended. Remove from the fire and stir in the well beaten yolks of the eggs. Then fold in the stiffly beaten egg whites.

Line a baking dish with halved ladyfingers. Pour over them half of the chocolate mixture. Add another layer of ladyfingers and use the remaining half of the chocolate. Set in the refrigerator over night, and serve with a topping of the whipped cream, garnished with candied cherries.

An automobile they were driving contained new clothing. The men were arrested when Seymour residents became suspicious of their actions and called police.

OFFICIAL WASHINGTON HAS PET AUTO LICENSE NUMBERS

WASHINGTON, Dec. 26.—Distribution of 1931 District of Columbia automobile licenses has disclosed the preferences and superstitions of a number of those high in official life.

Vice-President Curtis again received 111, which he has had ever since his inauguration and which he feels is symbolic of his victory in the 1928 election. Mrs. Dolly Gann, his sister and official hostess, has 11.

Representative John Q. Tilson, of Connecticut, Republican leader of the house, obtained Y-91 because he was graduated from Yale in 1891.

Representative Quinn Williams (Dem., Tex.) insisted on the lucky number 711 and Speaker Nicholas Longworth got 66. Mrs. Alice Roosevelt Longworth, the Speaker's wife, received 84.

According to custom, the numbers from 100 to 110 were assigned to President Hoover.

STOLEN FROM PARTY

CHICAGO, Dec. 26.—City and county police joined today in the search of a kidnaper who abducted 17-year-old Alice Ceranek as she was about to enter her home where a Christmas party was in progress.

"I went to the door to greet Alice," said her mother, Mrs. Michael Ceranek. "She almost had reached the house when a man jumped from an automobile at the curb, ran up the sidewalk and seized her."

Alarmed by Alice's screams, her brother John, ran to her aid. The kidnaper threatened him with a pistol and shoved the girl into his automobile.

The abductor resembled a man with whom Alice had broken off a friendship because she suspected him of being a gangster.

BANK BANDIT LOSES

ON FREEDOM PLEA

ANDERSON, Ind., Dec. 26.—Garrett Dinkla, 21, will remain a prisoner in the Indiana reformatory as the result of a ruling by Judge Carl F. Morrow here dismissing a petition for a writ of habeas corpus on which the prisoner sought his freedom.

Dinkla is serving a twelve-year sentence for robbing a bank at North Salem. He was convicted at Danville by a special jury and before a special judge while the regular court was engaged in the trial of the Latta insurance suit. Attorneys for the prisoner asserted the conviction was illegal because there can not be two sessions in the same circuit at the same time.

In deciding the case, Judge Morrow said Dinkla's attorneys consented to the special court at the time of trial and held that they did not know successfully how to raise the question of jurisdiction.

MARTINSVILLE, Ind., Dec. 26.—Breaking a losing streak of three games in a row Coach Glen Cantel Martinsville high school team defeated the national champions from Athens, Tex., the worst defeat they have sustained in Indiana, when the last game Christmas afternoon 42 to 18. Although the visitors had played three Indiana teams before meeting Martinsville, they still were a peppy bunch and started the evening as soon as play opened with a free throw by Tompkins, who followed with a field goal. The fast breaking offense of the visitors was harmless under the close guarding of the Martinsville players.

EVIDENCE OF VALUE OF SHORT COURSE

One of the most successful of all short courses held in Indiana in recent years, was that held at Salem on December 10 and 11, 1929. Concerning it the following is quoted word for word, from a letter written by one who lived and worked at Salem at that time and had a very prominent part in handling the short course: "I have been wondering how I could express in words the results of the short course held at Salem last fall. There is no doubt that it attracted more attention and interest than anything ever held in the county. I am sure that this enthusiasm did not die out with the end of the short course. The information and practical instruction given by the extension men and women, caused many people to think about doing their work better and I am sure that many new plans and many new resolutions were made. This is evidenced by the enquiries coming in to the county agent's office. The home talent concert held the first night brought out much talent that was unknown. It created an interest in many of the local communities to the extent that more attention is being given to the development of this talent. It is not possible to estimate the value of this social rejuvenation. "There is much evidence of a feeling of mutual responsibility for community welfare on the part of the farmers and business men as a result of this banquet. Practically everyone I talked to thinks the short course is one of the best things Salem ever had." The short course at Salem was one of the richest ever held though not one of the largest. It was attended by 2,472 different people. Still another writer said about his short course, "The value of a short course to any community, depends upon the initial effort and co-operation given, plus the actual value of the reaction upon the community in general." So we get out a short course, generally speaking, about in proportion to the effort we make working it up. Plan big and wisely, get enthusiastic, we gain.

Frances Dee Delights
Her Supper Guests
With a Cuddled
Apple Salad

The sparkle in Frances Dee's eyes shows that her bridge salad was a grand slam

By FRANCES DEE
Do you remember the dumb girl in the advertisements a few years ago who never ordered anything but chicken salad when she was invited to a restaurant meal? I used to feel a lot like her, because chicken salad was about the only thing I could think of to serve at a bridge or Sunday night supper. Finally I took up the matter of salads in a serious way, and now I have a prize selection, but the one below is my favorite and the one my guests rave about whenever I serve it.
It can be prepared in advance of the party at which it is to be served and kept in the ice box.

Cinnamon Apple Salad
1 cup sugar 6 apples
1 cup water 1/2 lb. cottage
2 cups red cinn- cheese
mon candies 1/2 cup chopped walnuts
Make a syrup of the sugar, water and candies by boiling together until it coats a spoon. Pare and core the apples, and cook them whole in the syrup until tender but not broken. Remove them from the syrup, and chill. When cold fill the centers with cottage or cream cheese and nuts. Serve them on lettuce, garnished with mayonnaise.

THE THEATERS

VONCASTLE
"The Gorilla" Packed With Fun and Excitement Opens Today

Mystery and comedy to the nth degree—that's "The Gorilla."
The new picture at the Voncastle Theatre, today and Saturday, matinee and night, is funny and thrilling by turns and sometimes at the same time.

Certainly Detectives Garrity and Mulligan hadn't the least idea of what it was all about; and if you want the present writer's opinion, Sherlock Holmes himself would have found it an almost impossible job to unravel the tangled skein of weird, blood-curdling occurrences. Garrity and Mulligan don't bear the slightest resemblance of Sherlock Holmes, beyond the fact that they are in the same business. Garrity is Joe Frisco, whom you've probably seen in vaudeville with his cigar, his derby hat tilted on one side of his head, and his shuffling dance-steps. Well, he's the same Joe Frisco, and the screen has another "find." And Detective Mulligan his that sterling comedian Harry Gribbon.

Walter Pidgeon and Lila Lee have the romance leads in "The Gorilla." We haven't mentioned "The Gorilla" himself Ah—that's part of the mystery!

GRANADA
Lupe Velez in "East is West" Opens Tomorrow For Two Days

Announcement was made today by the Granada Theatre that Universal's all-talking screen version of the successful stage play, "East is West," featuring Lupe Velez, Lawis Ayres and Edward G. Robinson, has been obtained as the next attraction, opening tomorrow and playing through Sunday, matinee and night.

The story deals with the love affair of Ming Toy and Bill Benson, son of a wealthy San Franciscan, who rescues the little Chinese girl from a "love boat" in China.

Miss Velez is said to have been most admirably cast as Ming Toy and in this role she makes her debut as a screen singer with her rendition of the famous "Chinese Lullaby."

"Eat Sweets For Energy—Exercise For Health"—Newest Hollywood Code

LEILA HYAMS

Out on the blue Pacific, beautiful Leila Hyams sails her own trim little bark. And does she feel like eating after a day at sea?—"Pass those potatoes and save me an extra cream puff," says Leila.

JOAN CRAWFORD

After two or three rounds in the gymnasium with her trainer, Joan Crawford Fairbanks is ready to "chaw beef." Joan says that curges are back to stay, which is good news for all of those who once thought they had to have bean-pole figures and starve themselves to be in fashion. Now-a-days, she tells us, the food faddist is as popular with Hollywood screen stars as a last year's song hit.

CLARA BOW

"Oh! Oh! Clara Bow; roller skates and away we go." Which is another way of telling you how the "IT" girl keeps those much envied curves. After a glide around the block, which probably includes a stop at the ice cream store to replenish her energy supply, and a chat with the corner newsboy, Clara is "rarin' to go." Eat what you like, says Clara, and exercise to keep in trim.

SALLY STARR

Badminton, as played by Sally Starr, is quite a strenuous pastime. If you don't believe it, says Sally, try pushing the little birds over the net the next time you feel the need of a real workout.
